

5 things to consider when planning your next event

1

Venue Selection:

Choose a location that aligns with sustainable principles. Consider venues with LEED certification, access to public transportation, and eco-friendly infrastructure.

2

Waste Reduction:

Implement waste reduction strategies like promoting reusable or compostable materials, setting up recycling stations, and discouraging single-use plastics.

3

Energy Conservation:

Encourage energy-efficient practices such as using LED lighting, powering equipment with renewable energy sources, and optimizing temperature controls.

4

Sustainable Catering:

Work with caterers who prioritize local, organic, and plant-based options to minimize the event's food-related impact.

5

Eco-Friendly Printing:

Minimize paper usage by providing digital materials or using recycled and responsibly sourced paper for necessary printouts.
